

ADULT PARTICIPANTS:
PLEASE READ CAREFULLY AND SIGN BELOW

RSCM Training Courses have established policies to ensure a safe and enjoyable experience for everyone who attends each summer. In keeping with the expectations of our course's younger participants, adult participants are also expected to exhibit the same code of conduct at all times, including appropriate language, attire, rehearsal etiquette, and respect for Duke University's staff and campus facilities.

The Carolina Course prides itself in offering an intensive, communal, and positive experience each summer. Adult participants are expected to be present and engaged at daily liturgies, rehearsals (both house and full), seminars, closing services, and other course-related activities throughout the duration of the course. Adults are also expected to act responsibly in public and private and respect the course staff and music leadership at all times.

Any RSCM adult participant whose attitude, conduct, or behavior is detrimental to the course's operation, or jeopardizes its residency as a guest of Duke University, will be immediately dismissed from the course at the discretion of the Course Manager and Course Safety Officer. Under such circumstances, any additional transportation, accommodations, or expenses incurred shall be the full responsibility of the participant. A refund will not be granted for anyone asked to leave, regardless of the date and time.

Adults aware of any participant suspected of being in violation of this Code of Conduct are asked to speak immediately with the Course Manager in private.
